-----	---------	------------------------	---------	--	---------	-------

Entry Description: Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer is one of the most recognized Christmas characters in the United States - rivaled only by Santa Clause himself. Rudolph and his iconic story premiered in December 1939 through every Montgomery Ward retail store in the country - including the location on South 4th Street in downtown Zanesville, Ohio. Written for the retailer by one of its Chicago employees, Robert May, Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer debuted as a free illustrated booklet given out to children that December. Its popularity was instantaneous, and Montgomery Ward capitalized on its success by marketing an extensive line of related 'Rudolph' products through their stores and catalogues. In 1947, Montgomery Ward's then-president, Sewell Avery, gave the copyright, free and clear, to Robert May, and the story of Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer literally went down in history! My painting fancifully depicts Rudolph's Zanesville debut at downtown's Montgomery Ward in 1939. The composition blends the historically accurate splendor of Zanesville's downtown, the great Montgomery Ward building, and surreal elements taken directly from Robert May's first original manuscript of Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer, including Santa and his sleigh being led by our red-nosed hero, and the Boeing Stratoliner flying through the sky above Montgomery Ward as illustrated in May's 1939 manuscript. This matte canvas piece measures 55x36-inches and has been customed framed.

Incentive Description: 24x18-inch framed canvas print of Ron Cole's original Budweiser Clydesdales on the Zanesville Y-Bridge c. 1935 - last's year's Festival of Trees entry and winner.

Entry Description: This magnificent 60-inch pine wreath frames a serene and sacred Christmas scene. At its center, the holy family rests in gentle reverence-Mary and Joseph gathered close around the Christ Child, illuminated as though by a soft, heavenly glow. Approaching are the three Wise Men, adorned in flowing robes and carrying their treasured gifts, their figures arranged with quiet dignity as they journey toward the manger. Above them stretches a deep midnight-blue sky, scattered with shimmering stars that sparkle like diamonds in the stillness of night. The Star of Bethlehem shines above. In the distance lies the humble town of Bethlehem, its silhouette softly defined against the starlit horizon, evoking peace, hope, and wonder. Enjoy this large wreath depicting the true meaning of Christmas at your home or place of business.
