_____ The Business Award celebrates the outstanding contributions of women to the local business community. Muskingum County native Mary Vashti Jones Funk built a solid reputation as a Zanesville attorney through decades of perseverance and hard work. She was recognized as a community leader whose insights and dedication helped move Muskingum County forward.

_____ The Education Award honors women who inspire individuals to higher levels of achievement. A long-time teacher at Zanesville City Schools, Winifred K. Vogt was actively involved with the local and national YWCA. Her concern for young women in our community and passion for growth of the YWCA was demonstrated throughout her life and through her estate.

_____ The Professions Award recognizes women who excel in the professional field. Mary Townsend's commitment and hard work were the driving forces in the 1918 "Build for Her" Campaign to construct the former YWCA. The organization's service to women in Zanesville is a direct result of Mary's skills and her beliefs about the role of women in a successful community.

_____ The Health Care Award celebrates noteworthy contributions to the quality of health care. A quiet, unassuming woman, Josephine Phillips was a great asset to the community. She became involved with the YWCA early in her residency and remained a good friend throughout her life. Her generosity inspired her children, as they made a contribution to the YWCA in her memory.

_____ The Special Recognition Award honors women who have devoted time and energy to serve the needs of the community. Aldine Roach Flegal was an Athens native whose relocation to Zanesville had a positive and long-term impact on the community. Her financial acuity is still demonstrated today through projects made possible by her generosity.

_____ The Young Adult Award recognizes women 22-34 years of age who exemplify the spirit of citizenship. Ethel Granger Schultz's generosity and vision for the future enabled the YWCA to flourish for many years. As a result of her endowment, women in Zanesville have experienced personal and professional growth through the YWCA programs.

_____ The Bright Futures Award honors females 18 and younger in Muskingum County. These students exemplify a commitment to the empowerment of young women. They are role models for others and extend themselves beyond the norm to attain success. They demonstrate an ongoing commitment to give back to the community.
